

To Apply:	View full posting and apply online at – www.k-state.edu/hcs/careers
University Mission:	The mission of Kansas State University is to foster excellent teaching, research, and service that develop the highly skilled and educated citizenry necessary to advancing the well-being of Kansas, the nation and the international community.
University Information:	Kansas State University educates more than 24,000 of tomorrow's potential leaders, and provides some of the best global food systems and biosecurity research in the world. In fact, the university is progressing toward its goal of becoming a Top 50 public research university by 2025. The university has nine academic colleges and offers more than 250 majors and options. The Graduate School offers 65 master's degrees, 45 doctoral degrees and 22 graduate certificates in multiple disciplines. The Princeton Review recognizes the university as one of the nation's best colleges, and U.S. News & World Report lists the university among the top 75 public universities in the U.S. Commonly referred to as K-State, the community is proud of its welcoming environment, and considers all K-Staters family. Our athletic teams, known as the Wildcats, compete in the Big 12 Conference and frequently win titles and championships.
Diversity and Inclusion:	Kansas State University embraces diversity and promotes inclusion in every sector of the institution. The university actively seeks individuals whose commitments and contributions will advance the University's dedication to the Principles of Community .
The Opportunity:	Kansas State University (KSU) is recruiting a highly qualified individual to serve as Director of the Kansas State Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory (KSVDL) (http://www.ksvdl.org/). The Director is the chief administrative officer of KSVDL and is expected to leverage and maintain the integral role of the laboratory in the research, professional service and teaching missions of KSU College of Veterinary Medicine (CVM). KSVDL is a full service (bacteriology, molecular diagnostics, pathology, rabies, serology, toxicology, virology) AAVLD-accredited diagnostic laboratory. The KSVDL is also a member of the USDA National Animal Health Laboratory Network (NAHLN) and is situated adjacent to the National Bio and Agro-defense Facility (NBAF), due to open in 2022. The Director will lead and manage a team of 89 KSU CVM faculty, technicians and administrative staff ensuring the highest quality diagnostic services are delivered promptly to clientele. This position will be either Clinical or Tenure track and hold the rank of Assistant Professor, Associate Professor or Full Professor.
Qualifications:	Required Qualifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) or equivalent and advanced degree in relevant field of study• Minimum of 5 years working in a veterinary diagnostic laboratory or related diagnostic laboratory experience in an industry or corporate environment Preferred Qualifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Ph.D., MPH, MBA, board certification in veterinary pathology, microbiology, toxicology or another laboratory-related specialty• Previous leadership experience as a laboratory director, distinguished record in research, teaching and/or diagnostic service• Experience with implementing and maintaining laboratory quality assurance systems
Search Process:	Application materials should include a cover letter outlining your career goals, a short resume, full curriculum vitae (C.V.), and contact information for at least 3 professional references.
Application queries or nominations should be sent to:	Full consideration will be given to applications received by February 15, 2019 . Questions regarding the position may be directed to Ms. Dee Royer (droblyer@vet.k-state.edu) or the search committee chair, Dr. Bradley Njaa (blnjaa@vet.k-state.edu).
Equal Employment Opportunity:	Kansas State University is an Equal Opportunity Employer of individuals with disabilities and protected veterans and actively seeks diversity among its employees.
Background Screening Statement:	In connection with your application for employment, Kansas State University will procure a Background Screen on you as part of the process of considering your candidacy as an employee.